LOWER MERION QUINTET SCUTTLES NORRISTOWN 32-26 AND TAKES TITLE

Locals Lead Greater Part of Way as They Defeat N. H. S. Again

EARLY PLAY RAGGED

Norristown, king of Class A, Suburban League basketball, is king no more. Its downfall was brought about by Lower Merion High in a play-off game for the championship at the county seat Friday night, and as a result of its victory Lower Merion, for three years runner-up, takes undisputed possession of the crown.

It was a hectic game before a record-breaking crowd and one of the most sensational finishes to a league season on record.

Coming from behind, in its last scheduled game of the season two weeks ago, Lower Merion sneaked under the line a 29 to 28 victor over Norristown and went into a tie for the Class A title. 'Twas a triumph, but only by one bare point, and Friday the Maroon and White showed clearly that the victory was no fluke. They added several points and emerged on the big end of at 32 to 26 score.

Both games were taken from Norristown on its home floor. It was sweet revenge for the defeat which the county seat five administered the Lower Merion five on its home floor in Ardmore early in the season.

Play Ragged at First.

On edge because of the importance of the fray, neither team played scintillating ball in the earlier stages of the contest. The passing was mediocre and the shooting was ragged. Time and again both sides broke loose to bombard the baskets, but only a small number of the shots went through the nets. Even fouls were missed—and that with a regularity that was alarming.

Lower Merion was the first to settle down and to that is due its victory.

Lower Merion presented a baffling attack—at least it was baffling to the Norristown defense.

The reason for Norristown's loss was two-fold. First, Norristown's basket shooting was worse than the Ardmore clan's. Actual count made in the first half showed Norristown made but three of 36 shots aimed toward the basket. Roy Sherid tried 11 times to make a score and not one shot hit the mark. Deem registered one out of 12. The second half was nearly as ragged.

Secondly, Lower Merion found a way to break through the N. H. S. defense. Norristown's method of a "standing defense" was solved and the county seat lads were caught standing on their flat feet as one of the Lower Merion sharp shooters would break through for a score.

Time of quarters—10 minutes. Referee—Harry Barfoot. Umpire—Lew Miller.

Both Lower Merion and Norristown High basketbal forces will be hard hit next season by graduations. The entire Lower Merion regular team will graduate this June.

Norristown will lose three of its regulars—Sherid, Deem and Toas at that time. Sherid will not graduate but will be ineligible, having played four years already. Three more men, Sinclair, utility guard; Winterbottom and Ramsey will be lost by Norristown in the winter graduations next February. This will leave two men of the present team. Akins and Rambo.

Everyone of the seven from Lower Merion who played in the scrap at Norristown last week will be lost this June by the diploma route. Captain Jimmy Faulk, Fred Slack, Kohlas, Ed. Morris, Ronnie Ruddick, Lew Mandes and Tubby Fort will all depart.

The graduations will hit Lower Merion so hard that it is unlikely a captain for the 1925-26 quintet will be chosen until next fall.

"WHAT FOR PINAFORE?" COMING NEXT MONTH

St. Margaret's Minstrels Will Again Show Forth.

St. Margaret's Minstrels, now well established as top-notch thespians as the result of three annual spectacular successes, are preparing to show themselves once again to an expecting public, and this time their vehicle will be an outbreak which advance news indicates will be their premier performance, "What For Pinafore?"

There will be two local perforances, as usual, on Wednesday and Thursday evenings, April 14 and 15, 1926, at the low price of $1 for general admission, with reserved seats at $1.50.

The cast will include practically all of the old favorites, together with several newcomers who have measured up to the rigid requirements imposed by Director Lawrence, the very same who has led the troupe to victory on all the previous occasions.

Between the acts, Allie Miller and Joe Kelly will present for the first time on any stage a rollick of risibilities calculated to sweep them into the professional field if their respective and estimable wives can be persuaded to accord the necessary permission.

For the concluding piece, it has been decided to reveal the procedure of the women's clubs, and assurance is given that all the details shall be true to type and the mystery unveiled as to just what the ladies do when they gather in meeting assembled and how inconsiderate men are when they protest the delicatessen dinners on club days.

Tickets will be available during the coming week and reservations will be made in the order in which applications are received.

MRS. JOHN STEWART

Mrs. John Stewart, wife of the former sexton of the Narberth Presbyterian Church, died at the Bryn Mawr Hospital last Friday. She was 78.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart came to this country from England a half-century ago, and were among Narberth's earliest residents. Mr. Stewart, now 86 is still a member of the church, though no longer its sexton.

Funeral services, conducted by Rev. John Van Ness were held Monday at Ardmore from the funeral parlors of Charles M. Stuard. Burial was at Westminster Cemetery.

Numerous floral offerings were sent by Narberth residents, who had long known Mrs. Stewart as a conscientious worker and pleasant neighbor.

AGES TOTAL 311 YEARS

The 78th birthday of Mrs. Amelia Vogt, Elm Terrace, was celebrated by four members of the Lutheran Church March 3 at the home of Mrs. Vogt. The other three participants were Mrs. M. E. McLinn, Mrs. Henry Shindle, and Mrs. Amelia Mohr, and the ages ranged from the early seventies to the early eighties. Luncheon was served, and a pleasant afternoon was enjoyed by all four.

GIRL SCOUTS CAKE BAKE

STUDENT WRITES ABOUT BUSINESS

Composition Observes Trade Zone Changes in Narberth

OTHER SCHOOL NOTES

A sharp eye and a good journalistic "nose for news" have been shown by Bob Vallette, of the Narberth Junior High School in a paper written for class work last week.

His paper, entitled "Narberth Commercial Improvements," follows:

"Narberth has certainly had a boom in the last seven years, starting immediately after the war. Like many places which have had a similar experience, the central part has been slighted. The business is moving from the station, our original commercial section, over to Narberth and Haverford avenues, and, likewise, along Narberth avenue, the town's residential street. The building of stores on Montgomery pike is also going to affect down-town business. Not at first to a great extent, perhaps, but in years to come they will give the older part of Narberth a good race for the North side customers.

"NOW is a ripe time to make a last strong effort to beautify and commercialize the properties near the station. Doctor Crane is going to move his drug store to the new building at the intersection of Haverford and Narberth avenues. If White's Sweet Shop then builds on the present site of Crane's Drug Store and the small plot on that corner, it will be a long step in the direction of redevelopment of our down-town section.

"Then there are many more such improvements possible, such as having the residence of Mr. Walls, on Forrest and Haverford avenues, replaced by a modern public or commercial building. Building stores on Forrest avenue would also tend to redevelop. Also the Windsor Garage next to our town's new bank, could be changed or improved.

"All of these changes would go to keep our small commerce in the part of the town where it would not 'junk' or ruin the residential districts."

Junior High Notes.

Last Friday the Dancing Club gave a dance in the assembly entitled "The Ace of Diamonds," which was enjoyed by all.

The ninth grade has been studying poetry this month. Three of the girls recited the poems which they had learned. "The Highwayman," by Alfred Noyes, was recited by Emma Lentz; "The Wonderful One-Horse Shay," by Oliver Wendell Holmes, was given by Almira Gregory, and "Lady Clare," by Alfred Tennyson, was recited by

MRS. BATCHELOR APPOINTED

At the meeting of the executive board of the Narberth League of Women Voters held Tuesday, Mrs. E. C. Batchelor was appointed vice chairman for the remainder of this term.

Mrs. Batchelor will take charge of the meetings due to Mrs. C. P. Fowler's resignation.

A number of Narberth women attended a joint meeting of the North Ardmore and Merion branches of the league in Merion Tuesday, when "Race Betterment" was discussed.

EPWORTH LEAGUE GIVES TWO PLAYS

Elm Hall Will be Scene of Amateur Dramatics on Friday

BOTH BY TARKINGTON

It's coming again! What? The night of the Epworth League play. Surely you remember how you nearly fell off your chair last year laughing at the "Colonel's Maid." You vowed that you would never miss any Epworth League dramatics. Next Friday night, March 26, is the date. It is to be held in Elm Hall and it is to be a double header. One of the plays will be the "Trysting Place" by Booth Tarkington. The hero will remind you of Willie Baxter in "Seventeen." You will laugh at him continually but find him very lovable. The situation which causes "The Trysting Place" to be so delightful is very humorous. A place is discovered in a fashionable hotel which is excellent for the exchange of confidences because of its sequestered privacy. It is discovered by too many guests, and proves to save more than one pair of ears.

You will have to see it to know what happens. The cast follows:

Mrs. Curtis .....Fern Reger
Lancelot Briggs .James Gowland
Mrs. Briggs ..Anna McCracken
Jessie Briggs .....Desna Rice
Rupert Smith ....Ernest Jenkins
Mr. Ingoldsby ...Ernest Purring
Mysterious Voice. George Purring

You should not miss the second play either. The "Travelers," also by Booth Tarkington. This is one of his latest productions and, although far different from the "Trysting Place" is equally as good an entertainer. The "Travelers" are Americans touring in Sicily. They are forced to spend a night at a little so-called hotel in a wild, deserted section of that country. Talk of bandits; strange appearance of the Sicilian natives, and queer and appaling noises all combine to terrify the poor weary, starving and frozen travelers. The night proves to be an eventful one, but just like the other play, it will be necessary to see it to get the thrill it gives.

The cast of "The Travelers" is
La Sera .....Charles Clegg
The Chauffeur. William Galloway
Mr. Roberts ....Edward Purring
Mrs. Roberts ..Marguerite Percy
Jessie Roberts,
Virginia Burgstresser
Fred Slidell .....C. Roy Smith
Mrs. Slidell .....Mary Lentz
Salvatore .....Robert Sigel
Luigi .....William Bailey
The Stranger .....William Sigel

These plays are under the able direction of Mary Chalfant. Eleanor Ward and Miriam Ward are the property managers, with William Galloway the stage manager.

This is the last warning—get your tickets at once because they are almost all gone. Remember next Friday night, March 26th, at Borough Hall, formerly known as Elm Hall. Curtain rises at 8 P. M. Paste boards are only 50 cents each.

Mr. Burton Peirsol, of Avon road, is to sing in "Tannhauser," to be given March 25 by the Civic Opera Company of Philadelphia.

Grippe Dangers Cited by Health Head in Warning About Epidemic

The changing weather of the past few weeks has brought about an epidemic of grippe here, which for prevalencing is rivaling that of the influenza epidemic of severay years ago.. Nearly everybody has it.

A warning was issued this week by Dr. Bertram K. Wilbur, president of Lower Merion Board of Health.

"Grippe is here and while comparatively mild in character, pneumonia is always a possibility and often not very far away," said Dr. Wilbur. "The suffering, loss of time, trouble and anxiety caused by the present epidemic is very great. The wise thing is to avoid it.

"Establish your own quarantine. Keep away from people who are sick. Keep away from every place where a considerable number of people get together. Especially keep away from places of amusement, because they are frequently poorly ventilated, especially if there are continuous perforances. People who are beginning to be sick, in the early stages of epidemic colds or grippe, feel mean and find temprary relief i the amusement of these places. They are apt to be there in considerable numbers.

"In every way possible keep your general health above par. Eat wisely and not too heartily. Sleep reasonably and with as much fresh air in your room as possible. Avoid overwork, worry, strain.

"Have every beginning cold treated promptly and fight it vigorously.

AMEND BUS LINE

An amendment has been made by the Philadelphia Suburban Transit Company to the new bus line which it proposes to run down Wynnewood road, Merion to Bryn Mawr. A hearing on this amended application will be held before the Public Service Commission in Room 496, Philadelphia City Hall, Friday, April 2, at 10 A. M.

The new route proposed is from the intersection of Sixty-third street and Lancaster avenue on Sixty-third street to City Line avenue; on City Line avenue to Wynnewod avenue; on Wynnewood avenue to Wynnewood road; on Wynnewood road to Montgomery avenue; on Montgomery avenue to Morris avenue, Bryn Mawr, and returning over the same route to the place of beginning.

The original application called for a line down Wynnewood road, Merion, to Penn avenue, Wynnewood, and through various Wynnewood streets to Thompson avenue, Ardmore, and then up Montgomery Pike to Bryn Mawr. This met with much opposition from Wynnewood residents who declared a new line through their section was not wanted and that streets there were too narrow for heavy bus traffic.

TWO SPEAKERS INTEREST WOMEN'S CLUB MEMBERS

Talks On Clubhouses and Foreign Affairs Heard.

On Tuesday last the Women's Community Club listened to a moving tale that might have been called the "Sorrows of a Clubhouse Builder," as told by a guest from the Chester Women's Club, which is now building after six years of more or less constant effort toward that end. Her message seemed to be "We did it just the same."

A contribution of $22 to the Building Fund, the proceeds of a card party given by Mrs. H. F. Stevens and Mrs. J. E. Chapatte, was announced.

The speaker of the afternoon, Dr. Warwick James Price, dwelt on the new spirit of co-operation among European states, as shown in the treaties of Locarno, a spirit utterly selfish, yet promising peace for the immediate future. Dr. Price warned against discouragement over apparent setbacks, like the trouble over the admission of Germany to the League.

Mrs. McCarthy Hanger, of Cynwyd, sang most pleasingly three numbers; Gounod's "Chantez, Chantez, ma Belle," Liszt's "Sunshine Song," and the old English song, "The Lass with a Delicate Air."

A St. Patrick's day collation was served by Mrs. Charles C. Carson, hostess; Mrs. C. N. Anderson, Mrs. R. G. Aungst, Mrs. C. A. Bailey, Mrs. P. D. Baughman, Mrs. J. N. Blake, Mrs. W. E. Boryer, Mrs. John B. Brooks, Mrs. L. C. Douglass, Mrs. James A. England and Mrs. J. D. Sutherland.

Did you ever feel like "the old woman who lived in a shoe, she had so many children she didn't know what to do?" That is the way the hostesses for the home card parties given by the Hospitality Committee are feeling since it is necessary to refuse reservations. The last one, held at the home of Mrs. A. Y. Reinking, was a howling success. With the able help of Mrs. C. A. Peeney, she managed to squeeze in seven tables by putting them "upstairs, downstairs and in my lady's chamber." The luncheon was a delicious one—fruit salad, home baked muffins, and piping hot coffee and tea. The prizes were lovely, among them one of Mrs. Egerton's famous angel cakes. Needless to say, that was chosen as first prize. Mrs. Eberhardt Mueller received first prize for bridge and Mrs. Joyce first prize for five hundred.

It is just possible you may be able to get admitted to Mrs. J. E. Burrell's party on Friday the 26th if you act quickly. At least, you can get on the waiting list.

An invitation has come from our constant friend, Mrs. H. S. Prentiss Nichols, to a private view of the art collection of her brother, the late Mr. McIlhenny, at Memorial Hall, Fairmount Park, Thursday morning, March 25. The party will assemble at the Y. M. C. A. at 10 A. M. to go by automobile. Will everyone wishing to make this trip please give her name to Miss Runyon, Narberth 677-R, especially those willing to offer their cars.

LOCAL STALWARTS ENDORSE PEPPER

Narberth—L. M. Politicians Gather at General Wayne.

FIRST FOR SENATOR

Formal endorsement of George Wharton Pepper as candidate for the United States Senate was given by the Lower Merion and Narberth Republican Association at a meeting Monday night at the General Wayne Inn. The Association is believed to be the first recognized Republican organization unit in the State to thus officially announce its support of the senior Senator in his race for re-election.

Other endorsements were also given by the Association. They were Henry Watson for re-election as Congressman from the Bucks-Montgomery county district; James S. Boyd, of Norristown, for State Senator from Montgomery county, and Fred C. Peters as Assemblyman from the First legislative district.

None of the endorsements came as a surprise. It was predicted here early in the year that Senator Pepper would secure the backing of the Lower Merion and Narberth organization. It has also been known for some time that former Senator Boyd, favorite with county organization heads, would be approved for the State Senate.

Support of Peters for the Assembly has been a foregone conclusion, since he was chosen as harmony candidate for the post at a conference of Lower Merion leaders two weeks ago.

Break Rumors Wrong.

There were some rumors early in the month that County Leader Johnson had broken with Joseph Grundy, Bristol boss, and hence that a fight might be made in Montgomery against Representative Watson, a Grundy man. The action of the Lower Merion Association, which is in close touch with Leader Johnson, in endorsing Watson indicates that these rumors were without foundation.

The Lower Merion Association ments Monday. It has made it a custom not to express approval of any candidate until after the final date for the filing of nominating petitions.

Because of this, some objection was expressed at first to action endorsing any candidates. Association leaders, however, declared that the present political situation made necessary an early stand by the organization. Following this unanimous endorsements were made of all foregoing candidates.

As soon as the $1000 is reached the Library Association will be in a position to proceed with its plans for moving to the new quarters, which will be ready for occupancy sometime next month.

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE, One Dollar and Fifty Cents per year in advance

Entered as second-class matter, October 15th, 1914, at the Post Office at Narberth, Pennsylvania, under the act of March 3, 1879.

Saturday, March 20, 1926.

Acknowledgment.

Our Town acknowledges the generosity of the King's Daughters and the Holy Trinity Lutheran Church.

These two organizations have sent checks to the paper to aid in its work. Both these were returned, however, as Our Town has outgrown the need for financial aid.

In former years contributions from local bodies were needed to make up yearly deficits. Recently, however, income from advertising and subscriptions has been sufficient to pay all printing and operating costs.

Thus this civic paper is able to perform its function of providing a medium for the activities of local organizations, without exacting financial aid.

To those mentioned above, and the others who have proffered contributions during recent month we extend our sincere thanks, pleased that the money can go back to perform other useful work.

Prompt Response.

This is an ad, though it looks like an editorial. So, if you do not care for shop talk, skip it.

Last week Mr. Wentz advertised his bees for sale. The morning after Our Town appeared a phone call secured them a home at Fairview.

That brief note is just to remind you that our classified advertising column is equal to almost any emergency. A few weeks ago a man seeking a room and board put a "Keyed" ad in Our Town. We turned over fifteen letters to him. That is a better record than is usually obtainable by Suburbanites who use the city papers, at many times the cost.

Read the ads and use them. It is well worth while.

Another Fine Letter.

To the Editor of "Our Town":

I am an old citizen of Narberth, having lived here for some 30 years. I have seen our town grow from a few small streets to the glorious suburb that it now represents. I have seen the young lads of Narberth grow into men. Some have succeeded; others failed. I have seen Narberth's business section develop, with an interest that probably no one in town could even suspect.

The thing that opens my eyes more than anything is the improvement in our younger boy generation. There is little in this town that has done as much to make it a commendable suburb as the Boy Scouts. There in their small cabin, under unrivaled leadership, breeds the germ of success. I have seen the old Scouts, the charter members of Narberth Troop, join the ranks. I have seen them attain the coveted eagle badge. I have seen them drop out, but always I saw the gleam of self-confidence shine in their eyes as they stepped out to college.

Too much cannot be said of this organization, its leaders and its members. Fred Patten—my, but we owe him a lot. The Boy Scouts have spread from Narberth to Wynnewood, where under the capable leadership of John Foster they now have a full troop. I might say of John Foster that, although he is a very familiar figure in Narberth, but few know that he is one of the highest ranking Scouts in the United States, if not the world. He has just received a badge of heroism and many other honors. Atherton Lane, another leader, is an Eagle Scout; Albert Means, George Maguire, Robert Harris and many others, all Narberth boys and good Scouts, are well on their way to this coveted honor.

Friends, I am an old man, but I have a young heart, and it goes out to the Boy Scout. He does stand ridicule, but his ridiculers are those same boys who follow in the footsteps of those who failed before them. I take off my hat to the Scout. God bless them, every one!

CITIZEN.

P. S.—Let me urge you to give your support to the Narberth Scouts. They need your material help as well as your moral support. Give freely and heartily—it could be for no greater cause.

Mrs. C. A. Speakman, who has been ill for several weeks is able to be about the house.

Camp Fire Activities.

Camp Fire organizations all over the world celebrated "Birthday Week," and, not to be outdone, the Kiyugan group of Narberth actively participated in the celebration. On Sunday, March 14, they met at the Baptist Church for the morning service; Monday, the regular meeting was held; Tuesday, there was a good turn out for the hike; Wednesday, preparations for the Mothers' and Daughters' Dinner on Thursday kept everyone busy; Thursday, final preparations were made and the dinner was given; Friday, the girls took charge of the assembly program, and Saturday, there was a Grand Council Fire in the mayor's reception room in Philadelphia. All the girls are working shoulder-to-shoulder, taking part in all activities and having a good time.

The Camp Fire organization would not have grown as it has except for the active and enthusiastic leadership of Miss Tyson and Miss Eames. In numbers the organization has increased from nine to 20 since last year.

The Scholarship Honors for the fourth period are as follows:

FIRST HONORS

Ninth grade—Ruth Hopkins, Ernestine Hunt, Eleanor Michaelsen.

Report cards for the fourth period were issued on Friday and remind us that the year is rapidly drawing to a close. School will probably close for the year on June 18.

JUNIOR'S CARD PARTY

Well, folks, another successful card party was scored by the Junior Community Club last Thursday evening when about 30 girls gathered in the home of Emma Mueller for a little friendly bridge game. Everyone had such a good time that anyone who fails to come to the next one to be held at Peg Burrell's, 507 Valley View road, will miss a snappy evening—to say nothing of the lovely prizes the girls are having! To sum it all up, folks, you have a lovely evening, a good game of cards, candy and prizes, all for 50 cents.

LEST WE FORGET

Would you be willing to give your magazines and other reading matter to the Seaman's Church Institute, rather than sell them to a ragman? You may not be in a position to give money or time to this good work, but you could help in this wonderful way to make life happier for those who do not have opportunities to secure good reading matter. The books will be called for at your convenience, if you will telephone Mrs. John B. Brooks, Narberth 1218. Pass the word along to someone else.

J. Randolph Keim, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hervey C. Keim, of 202 Dudley avenue, appeared with great success in a recital given on Saturday, March 13, at the Combs Conservatory, Philadelphia.

Regular Services, Sunday March 21:

9.45 A. M.—Sunday School and Bible Classes.

11.00 A. M.—Sermon: "Words of Jesus."

6.45 P. M.—Luther Leagues.

7.45 P. M.—Evening Service: "Doing God's Will."

The services on last Sunday were well attended and listened to with close attention.

Let there be a repetition on this Sunday, with an increase of attendance and interest.

We would emphasize again, our desire for a growing spirit and self-denial on the part of our people and an offering on Easter that will gladden every heart.

Our Lenten services every Wednesday evening need your thought and your co-operation.

Everything should brighten up with the prospect of the gladdest Easter we have ever had.

The Lutherans are busy working for a well-used Lenten season in practicing self-denial that they may have a large offering for the Lord and His church and also an addition to its membership that will make all glad.

Our Wednesday evening Lenten services ought to be made much of with prayer for the Spirit of God that all who come may think more deeply and sympathetically of the suffering of Christ and lead many now uninterested persons to a confession of Christ and union with the church.

Holy Week will mean a deeper descent into the darkness and mysteries of redemption, and the awful scenes of the "Garden" and "Calvary" shall come before men with such force as to awaken them and make real conversions to multiply in our midst. And finally to make Easter to be a climax to all the efforts and prayers and faith of the Christian people, in which joy shall overflow, in large attendance at the services, fine accessions to membership, abundant and a most blessed Communion under the light and in the favor of our risen Lord.

HONOR SCOUTS TO TOUR THE UNIVERSITY MUSEUM

More Contributions Received for 1926 Budget Fund.

Today seven Boy Scouts are being rewarded for faithful work by being given a tour of the University Museum in Philadelphia in company with a scout master.

These boys are the "honor members" of the two troops. They have shown the greatest proficiency in their work, and at this week's regular meeting were chosen from among 30 candidates.

The are: Vestus Spindler, Robert Harris, Horace Shenneman, Vincent Koller, Ralph Bowman, Keith Monnington and Edward Wolf.

While at the museum, they will make a special study of the American Indian. After viewing the exhibits, a talk on "Life On the Plains" will be given.

According to the scoutmasters, the boys of each troop are making satisfactory progress in passing from the tenderfoot to a second-class scout, and from second to first-class. In line with their work on woodcraft and pathfinding, all of the registered scouts will be taken for an extended hike over the hills of Montgomery county next Saturday.

They will leave Narberth in a body and will be in full regulation Scout uniform. They will start under "sealed orders," containing the itinerary, which will not be opened until after passing beyond the boundary line of the borough. These have been carefully worked out by the scoutmasters.

An innovation in Scout work, instituted this week, is that of inviting the fathers of six of the scouts to be present at the regular meeting of the troops on Monday evening. Each week a similar number of fathers will be extended an invitation to be present and witness the work the boys are doing. As the space in the Cabin is limited, it was thought advisable not to invite more than six visitors at a time. Parents of the Scouts, as well as other residents of the borough, will be welcome to attend the meetings. The idea of sending special invitations was adopted, however, in order to be sure that the parents at least would be able to see what their boys are doing.

The new additions to the list of contributors to the 1926 budget that is being raised are: E. H. Connell, William S. Horner, Ralph S. Dunne, A. H. Wilson, Albert H. Nulty and F. T. Meigs.

An attractive Scout poster, calling attention to this fund, has been displayed on the public bulletin boards. "No amount is too small"—according to the poster. As the time is fast approaching when construction work can be carried on without interruption, the Fathers' Association is in hopes of making a whirl-wind wind-up of the full amount of the budget.

HAMILTON HEADS CHAMBER

Richard J. Hamilton, Lower Merion banker, was unanimously re-elected president of the Ardmore Chamber of Commerce at a meeting Tuesday.

Other officers chosen were: Vice President, Harry C. Bare; treasurer, Howard Kurtz; secretary, Albert Lee Reinhold; directors, J. E. Barkman and William G. Frankenfield.

COTTER'S MARKET

Chain stores, mail order houses or big business can never put the capable, resourceful, live, wide-awake, up-to-date small merchant out of business. Our business is as big as we are. When we refer to our economical methods and our lower quotations, we do so with positive assurance that such references are veritable realities, for we know that so great a number of customers would not be buying goods from us if we were not serving them advantageously, and that the great volume of business we do could not be done year in and year out unless our claim of superior economies were well-founded. So, we assert, there is nothing etherial about the efficiency of our methods; it is merely a matter of making our profits and our economies dovetail one into the other, the net results of which we pass along to our trade in worthwhile advantage.

Our aim—To give the Best at LOWEST COST.
